

REview Magazine

REview is an exciting new on-line journal for RE professionals in Wales. Two editions will be published a year (February and September) which you can download FREE from this website.

REview includes material relating to:

- research in religious education
- curriculum development in religious education
- religion and culture
- reviews of books and resources.

The first issue of REview is downloadable from this website in February 2009. Sign up to receive e-mail notification when REview is published with a direct link accessing the latest issue (to sign up return to the page from which you accessed this pdf, and enter your name and e-mail address where requested).
